HEADS UP FROM MRS DAY

Thank you to everyone who came to our parents evening this week. It is always one of my favourite times of the year as it is a chance to talk to you and see how things are. I hope you enjoyed the meetings with the teachers and the opportunities to talk about all of your wonderful children. Thank you to our governors, Andrew and Claire, who joined us on Tuesday evening and thank you to any parent who spoke to them. We know that we don't always get everything right and any feedback to the school is always really useful.

Tomorrow is Children in Need and an opportunity for the children to wear spots. They are welcome to come to school in non-uniform and donate to the charity if they wish. Please donate via the link as we will not be accepting cash in school. If your child has PE on a Friday, please ensure they are suitably dressed for this.

Yesterday was our Remembrance Service in school and I was very impressed at the respect that the children showed during our silence. We welcomed two students from Abingdon School who played The Last Post beautifully as we all reflected. See below for some photographs of the morning and the work that the children created in class.

I am pleased to say that we have sold out of tickets for the School Association wreath making event next week and the slots to visit Santa at the Christmas Bazaar are selling fast.
